My name is Lyla Anderson. I am 8 years old and live in Groveland, CA with my mom, dad and dog, Bailey. I love to be outside in nature and playing with friends and family. I love to learn and am competitive. I also love to swim and be active. And last but not least, I have a huge love for movies, theater and television!

I want to be an actor because I like to be able to transform into different characters and give it my own twist. It makes me happy and I love the challenge. I also like to make new friends with similar interests! I imagine myself as different characters frequently when watching or reading any story. I'd love the opportunity to act in any form. Thank you :)

Sincerely,

Lyla Anderson
