To Whom It May Concern,

I am eight years old, in the third grade, and have been begging my parents to let me start acting for a few years. I recently attended the online Zoom auditions with Talent Auditions, which led to the opportunity to put together a unique and fun 60-second monologue at the Regional Showcase on August 17. I enjoyed performing for the talent agents on the Zoom. My piece was "Excuse for Being Up Late".

I have always loved performing on stage and for friends and family. I am known by my teachers and classmates as being the constant helper in the class. I play soccer, basketball, and tackle football, where I am training to be the kicker! I have also played piano for three years and perform in our annual recital for the music school I attend. I am energetic, funny, outgoing, and a very hard worker. I will be committed to working hard in any role and can't wait to continue my training.

Again, I appreciate your time and consideration. Attached is my headshot, resume, and a YouTube link of my monologue!

I look forward to hearing from you!

All the best,

Henry Parker
