To whom it may concern,

Landon is a very literal, energetic and spunky young man. He doesn't process things the way most of us do. For example: A neighbor asked him to go tell her girls "to get their butts outside." He looked back at her and asked "what about the rest of their body?" Landon is great with numbers and facts. He will debate with you on every topic because he is never wrong. He is a confident kid.

He loves math and learning new facts about certain topics that he finds intriguing (Titanic, solar system, etc). He loves singing and dancing to Taylor Swift. He becomes so engrossed in a topic and will learn everything about. He teaches many adults random new facts they didn't know.

Sports are not really Landon's thing. He would rather have a conversation about things, even though said conversation will likely be onside. Yes, Landon doesn't stop talking sometimes. Landon enjoys mimicking things he sees on television. For example: Landon can sing and dance to parts of Taylor swift or he can act out the fight scene of Teenage Kraken. There is truly no easy way to describe Landon, other than he is just Landon.

Thank you for your time,

Landon Mathewson
