

Hi,

I am Briana Manyak, and I currently live in Madison, AL. I am thrilled to start my journey as an actor and model in the entertainment industry. Born in 2017 to a diverse background - with my mother being Filipina and my father American - I have had the privilege of experiencing life in the Philippines and various other locations worldwide. These experiences have broadened my worldview and ignited my passion for embracing multiple cultures through the art of performance. Having been exposed to multiple cultures, I am confident that my unique background will contribute to the atmosphere of the entertainment industry.

My love for animals and my interest in adventure and exploration have opened my eyes to the various beauty that exists in the world. Dancing, gymnastics, singing, and an interest in fashion are integral to my identity. However, my fascination with TV and movies has propelled me towards my current pursuit of becoming an actor and model. I am always eager to learn and thrive on pushing myself beyond my comfort zone to discover the limitless possibilities of who I can become. This opportunity aligns perfectly with my aspirations, and I am excited about bringing my varied experiences and talents to the world of acting and modeling.
